News Break Scavenger Hunt

Sunday's News Break challenges you to hunt through the Sunday, *November 22, 2026, print replica of The Seattle Times to find answers to the following questions.

1. In a statement Saturday afternoon, Gov. Bob Ferguson said _____ is "completely and totally out of control. Like many Americans, I'm outraged by masked agents, who do not identify themselves, dragging people off jetways as they board a flight, creating chaos in our communities," he said. "Today's actions at Seattle-Tacoma International Airport are just the latest example of ICE's deeply un-American tactics." (MAIN)
2. The Democratic Party's incoming senators haven't even been sworn into office yet, but the decision over who will lead their new majority is already testing the promise of _____ they made as candidates. The 13 new Democrats are part of the largest incoming Senate class in decades, with several winning in Republican strongholds by promising to shake up D.C. and be _____ _____. (MAIN)
3. Today in history: John F. Kennedy, the 35th president of the United States, was shot to death while riding in a motorcade in Dallas; Texas Gov. John B. Connally, a passenger in the same car as Kennedy, was seriously wounded. Suspected gunman Lee Harvey Oswald was arrested. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson was soon after sworn in as president. What year did this take place? (MAIN)
4. Taiwan's deputy foreign minister warned Saturday that Prime Minister Mark Carney risks exposing Canada to the very economic coercion he has cautioned against by deepening trade ties with China, saying that Taiwan has learned the hard way that dependence on Beijing comes with _____. (MAIN)
5. The Common Cents Act, signed by President Donald Trump on Friday, officially ends production of the _____. (MAIN)
6. Many have tried — and failed — to confirm that _____, the folkloric apelike giant who is said to roam North America, is real. There have been reports of near misses, giant footprints and unexplained figures dotting the woods. But despite all efforts, the hairy biped has largely remained the stuff of campfire stories. (MAIN)
7. The number of new doctoral students studying science, engineering, health, mathematics and computer science at major research institutions in the United States fell substantially during the first year of President Donald Trump's second term, according to a new federal survey. The decline, about as steep as what occurred during the COVID-19 pandemic, was largely — but not entirely — driven by a drop in _____ _____. (MAIN)
8. Efforts to set firm rules on AI-powered _____ _____ and _____ ran aground Saturday as U.N.-backed talks in Geneva produced a softened agreement to extend discussions for two more years. (MAIN)

9. In the first sale of its kind, the Trump administration on Thursday leased 31.5 million acres of the Pacific Ocean to a private _____ _____ _____ company, despite a judge's ruling this week that the auction would be illegal. (MAIN)
10. Many longtime owners of shops on Etsy, the online marketplace known for its handmade goods, said last week that they had left the site over a recently announced policy change that they said would leave them vulnerable to _____ by artificial intelligence companies. Language in Etsy's new terms, set to take effect Dec. 16, says the company and its "third party partners and vendors" reserve the right to use sellers' content to "develop, train, test and improve artificial intelligence and machine learning technologies."
