

Scavenger Hunt

Sunday's News Break challenges you to hunt through the Sunday, November 13, 2016 e-Edition of The Seattle Times to find answers to the following questions.

1. The cellphone number is more than just a bunch of digits. It is increasingly used as a link to private information maintained by all sorts of companies. What kinds of companies and what can they monitor? (MAIN)
2. Colombia's government and its largest rebel group signed what? (MAIN)
3. David Bowie's art collection has sold for $_____ million, far exceeding predicted sales, British auction house Sotheby's said Saturday. (MAIN)
4. What significant step in racial equality happened on this day in 1956? (MAIN)
5. What is special about APTN? (MAIN)
6. Two wildlife issues have collided in Hawaii, pitting one group of animal defenders against another in an impassioned debate. What is the point of contention? (MAIN)
7. U.S. Sen. Lisa Murkowski hopes to advance a proposal to allow what? (MAIN)
8. Researchers have designed a system that lets a patient with late-stage Lou Gehrig's disease type words using what? (MAIN)
9. Songs have power; so do prayers. So does cedar, sage and standing together. That's what tribes gathered from around Western Washington vowed Saturday, in a rally against what? (NW SUNDAY)
10. Quincy Jones, one of Seattle's favorite sons, has been nothing if not eclectic over the 70-plus years of a career that has included what popular musicians? (NW SUNDAY)

News Break is posted to the Web on Wednesday and Friday. Please share this NIE News Break program with other teachers. To sign-up for the electronic edition for your class, please call 206/652-6290 or toll-free 1-888/775-2655.

Copyright © 2016 The Seattle Times Company