

News Break Scavenger Hunt

Sunday's News Break challenges you to hunt through the Sunday, April 11, 2021 print replica of The Seattle Times to find answers to the following questions.

1. TODAY IN HISTORY: U.S. soldiers liberated the Nazi concentration camp Buchenwald in Germany. What year did this take place? (MAIN)
2. What is superfetation? (MAIN)
3. Now comes what the space agency says will be a "Wright brothers" moment on Mars. What did they create, what do they hope happens, how far and how long should it take and what highlights will it mark? (MAIN)
4. People who ignored an initial warning to evacuate the area closest to a volcano on the eastern Caribbean island of _____ raced to get clear Saturday, a day after the volcano erupted with an explosion that shook the ground, spewed ash skyward and blanketed the island in a layer of fine volcanic rock. (MAIN)
5. A Hollywood fantasy turned into reality Saturday when _____ became the first female jockey to win the grueling Grand National, breaking down one of the biggest gender barriers in sports. Blackmore, a 31-year-old Irishwoman, rode Minella Times to victory at odds of 11-1 in the 173rd edition of the famed steeplechase at Aintree in Liverpool, England. "I don't feel male or female right now. I don't even feel human," Blackmore said. "This is just media after becoming the first female jockey to win the Grand National steeplechase in Liverpool, England. Unbelievable." Blackmore is the 20th female jockey to compete in a race that has been a mud-splattered British sporting institution since 1839. Women have only been allowed to enter the National as jockeys since 1975. (SPORTS)
6. _____, 99, the Duke of Edinburgh, husband of Queen Elizabeth II, father of Prince Charles and patriarch of a turbulent royal family that he sought to ensure would not be Britain's last, died Friday at Windsor Castle in England. (NW, C4)
7. A volcano erupts in Iceland in an image captured by an Earth-orbiting satellite. The number of satellites in orbit has mushroomed since 2015. Why? (BUSINESS)
8. Planning for the _____ workplace, in which employees are in the office some days of the week and working remotely for the rest, is a top concern for companies grappling with what the post-pandemic future of work will look like. (BUSINESS)
9. Kristina McElheran, an assistant professor of strategy at the University of Toronto and another co-author of the NBER report, says flexing your frontal cortex in this way can help the neurons in your brain grow and reorganize, an ability known as what? It can help people over 50 master new skills and store more information. "We're learning more and more about the importance of continually challenging ourselves to take on new skills," she says. (JOBS)

10. Visitors to Chongli, one of the venues for the Beijing 2022 Winter Olympics, pass by the Olympics logo in August. The debate over whether to boycott the 2022 Beijing Olympics over China's _____ - _____ record is heating up. (OPINION)