

News Break Scavenger Hunt

Sunday's News Break challenges you to hunt through the Sunday, May 22, 2022 print replica of The Seattle Times to find answers to the following questions.

1. More than _____ housing units have been built in the planned City Center area of Lynnwood, near the light-rail station under construction in the foreground. (MAIN)
2. In recent years it's been tough times for the Seattle psyche. So, it's understandable why on Saturday some 4,000 volunteers were ready for a little feel-good. They had signed up for Mayor Bruce Harrell's One Seattle Day of Service, which meant sprucing up the city. What things did volunteers do to help? (MAIN)
3. Tennessee is about to become the first state to make it a felony to do what? (MAIN)
4. The U.S. Food and Drug Administration, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and others have been investigating a multistate outbreak of salmonella senftenberg infections which are linked to a product many people enjoy daily. What product is it and what lot code numbers are impacted? (MAIN)
5. U.S. military aircraft are delivering 132 pallets of _____ from Germany to Indianapolis this weekend, in support of a Biden administration initiative that aims to quickly increase supplies of the food source amid a national shortage. (MAIN)
6. A tarantula at Tanjung Puting National Park in Indonesia is one example of the 1,200 arachnid species sold as part of what? (MAIN)
7. Bellingham is no different: Wednesday is race night. And in this Washington town, which has become a _____ hot spot, that means you bring your bike. (THE MIX)
8. The month of June has three "state parks free days," more than any other month. You can access all Washington State Parks without paying an entry fee. What dates are free? (THE MIX)
9. _____. It fuels, nourishes and nurtures us. It's a medium for connection and for making memories. (THE MIX)
10. To add drama and sophistication to a room, try painting what? (AT HOME IN THE NW)