News Break Scavenger Hunt

Sunday’s News Break challenges you to hunt through the Sunday, October 30, 2022 print replica of The Seattle Times to find answers to the following questions.

1. Removing pieces of bark from dead Western red cedars can help determine what? (MAIN)
2. Offshore wind power development is occurring along the North Atlantic right whales’ migratory routes, potentially putting the animals at risk of what? (MAIN)
3. As America loads up on an estimated ______ million pounds of candy for Halloween, a handful of companies are trying to make it easier to recycle all those wrappers. (MAIN)
4. Students walk past the UW biology department’s new 20,000-square-foot energy efficient and highly automated greenhouse in Seattle. The school hopes it will become a destination for whom? (NW)
5. Initiative Measure No. 1 would increase the Tukwila’s minimum wage to match SeaTac, requiring large employers to pay about $_____ an hour starting next summer. (BUSINESS)
6. Starbucks accused of ripping off what? (BUSINESS)
7. The rising rate of inflation was _____% in September. (BUSINESS)
8. Technically, what does the gut refer to? (THE MIX)
9. HOODSPORT, Mason County — Every October, diehard scuba divers look forward to pumpkin-carving contests. These events are essentially like run-of-the-mill jack-o’-lantern carving festivities — contestants get pumpkins, carving tools and an hour to finish their masterpieces — except they happen where? (THE MIX)
10. What is the picture of on this page? What are you most drawn to? (PACIFIC NW,3)