

News Break Scavenger Hunt

Sunday's News Break challenges you to hunt through the Sunday, September 17, 2023 print replica of The Seattle Times to find answers to the following questions.

1. A battle between Detroit carmakers and the United Auto Workers union, which escalated Friday with targeted strikes in three locations, is unfolding amid a once-in-a-century technological upheaval that poses huge risks for both the companies and the union. The established carmakers — General Motors, Ford Motor and Stellantis, which owns Chrysler, Jeep and Ram — are trying to defend their profits and their place in the market in the face of stiff competition from Tesla and foreign automakers. Some executives and analysts have characterized what is happening in the industry as the biggest technological transformation since what happened, in the beginning of the 20th century? (MAIN)
2. TODAY IN HISTORY: The Constitution of the United States was completed and signed by a majority of delegates attending the Constitutional Convention in Philadelphia. What year did this take place? (MAIN)
3. Executives from Washington and Oregon acknowledged in writing that they would be excluded from decisions related to the Pac-12's future — a potentially critical piece of evidence as Washington State and Oregon State, the only remaining schools, wage a legal battle for control of what? (SPORTS)
4. When someone competes in the Ironman World Championships in Kona, Hawai'i, an event often considered the most grueling in sports-what do they have to do? (SPORTS)
5. So far this year the Benton County Mosquito Control District (which also covers portions of Yakima County) has had 42 batches of mosquitoes test positive for _____ virus, more cases than they've seen in over a decade. (NW)
6. New economic data shows the rich around here seem to have no earthly bounds. The wealthiest 20% of Seattle households saw their incomes surge yet again in 2022, and now make an average of $_____ per year, the U.S. Census Bureau reported this past week. (NW)
7. Randy Riley, a harvester and forager, can make how much per day? (JOBS)
8. To become an Eagle Scout, Auburn teen leads effort to build what? (THE MIX)
9. Our food critic tried 31 breakfast sandwiches in the Seattle area. Which restaurant took 1st place? (THE MIX)
10. Tending to _____— whether outdoors in a backyard or indoors with a collection of houseplants — when we are mourning can be a powerful way to work through our emotions. Grief experts report that gardening has various therapeutic benefits during times of distress, including reducing anxiety and providing a sense of comfort, restoration and purpose. (THE MIX)