

News Break Scavenger Hunt

Sunday's News Break challenges you to hunt through the Sunday, February 11, 2024 print replica of The Seattle Times to find answers to the following questions.

1. Either of the leading 2024 candidates would be the oldest occupant of the Oval Office ever by the end of his term. Joe Biden would be _____ and Donald Trump would be _____. (MAIN)
2. New surveys show that today's intensive _____ into adulthood has benefits, not just risks, and most young adults seem happy with it, too. (MAIN)
3. But some hope for a baby boom, or even a baby boomlet, in the year ahead as Saturday marks the start of a Lunar New Year and the dawn of the Year of the _____. (MAIN)
4. With fireworks, feasts and red envelopes stuffed with cash for the kids, numerous Asian nations and overseas communities have welcomed the _____ on Saturday. (MAIN)
5. The region is paying extra attention to this South King County city: Homeless residents are suing Burien over the path it chose, setting up a historic case that, if successful, could add what? (MAIN)
6. Young Chinese are flocking to the picturesque mountain town of Dali to escape what? (MAIN)
7. _____% of U.S. adults are excited for the actual Super Bowl game, according to a recent AP poll conducted with the Center for Public Affairs Research. (SPORTS)
8. Compared with earlier generations, many people are choosing to do different things with their young adulthood instead of having _____, Cohen said. (NW)
9. Sarah Beth Ryther would love to have a car, her own apartment and eventually a child. But she thinks that seems unreachable as, like most of her co-workers at Trader Joe's in Minneapolis, she earns $_____ to $_____ an hour. (BUSINESS)
10. In an interview, the study's primary researcher, Christopher Gardner said, "My science doesn't say people should be vegan; it just says people should do what? (THE MIX)