

News Break Scavenger Hunt

Sunday's News Break challenges you to hunt through the Sunday, March 31, 2024 print replica of The Seattle Times to find answers to the following questions.

1. President Joe Biden's reelection campaign is raising gobs of cash. And it has an election year strategy that, in a nutshell, aims to do what? (MAIN)
2. "A carpet is a moment of thanksgiving for all the blessings we receive all year long," said the devout Catholic who's been preparing Holy Week carpets for more than 30 years. "Each speck of _____ is a prayer." (MAIN)
3. People look out at the cargo ship Dali and the destroyed Francis Scott Key Bridge on Friday. Why the Dali's operating systems failed will be a central part of an _____. (MAIN)
4. McCormick was one of about 5,500 Alaskans between 1904 and the 1960s who were committed to a hospital in Portland after being deemed by a jury "really and truly insane," a criminal offense. There were no facilities to treat those with mental illness or developmental disabilities in what was then the Alaska territory, so they were sent — often by dog sled, sleigh or stagecoach — to a waiting ship in Valdez. The 2,500-mile journey ended at Morningside Hospital. Many never left, and their families never learned their fate. They are known as the _____. (MAIN)
5. Hatch is a visually impaired student and a space enthusiast who hopes to one day become a computer scientist for NASA. On eclipse day, she and her classmates at the Texas School for the Blind and Visually Impaired plan to sit outside in the school's grassy quad and listen to a small device called a _____ - Sound box that translates changing light into sounds. When the sun is bright, there will be high, delicate flute notes. As the moon begins to cover the sun, the midrange notes are those of a clarinet. Darkness is rendered by a low clicking sound. (MAIN)
6. Urban areas are awash in wildlife that faces growing pressures due to _____. The research, which looked at climate effects on everything from mammals to insects in 60 of the most populous cities across the U.S. and Canada, found a warming world is moving many animals out of their historical geographic ranges and into new ones. (MAIN)
7. Lava flows from a volcanic eruption between the famed Blue Lagoon and the town of Grindavik in western _____ on Wednesday. (MAIN)
8. _____ had 29 points and 15 assists to lead top seeded Iowa to an 89-68 win over fifth-seeded Colorado in the women's NCAA tournament on Saturday, setting up a rematch of last year's national title game against LSU. (SPORTS)
9. Interstate 90 fractures the spine of the Cascades at its midpoint. For wildlife that once freely roamed the region from Canada to Oregon, the highway was an impassable barrier — until the Washington State Department of Transportation started building _____ _____ in Snoqualmie Pass 15 years ago. The structures now help thousands of animals each year cross the state's busiest east and-west artery and one of the nation's busiest mountain highways. By 2031, the 15-mile, $1 billion project will feature 16 more crossings. (NW)

10.A _____ — in which the moon completely covers the sun for a few minutes, creating a pitch-black "path of totality" — is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity for many. It's been 99 years since New York had one, and 218 years for Ohio. (BUSINESS)