

News Break Scavenger Hunt

Sunday's News Break challenges you to hunt through the Sunday, November 24, 2024 print replica of The Seattle Times to find answers to the following questions.

1. A _____ jumps over an obstacle during an obstacle course at the ANIMAL trade fair for pet lovers on Saturday at the Messe Stuttgart exhibition center in Stuttgart, Germany. (MAIN)
2. TODAY IN HISTORY: British naturalist Charles Darwin published "On the Origin of Species," which explained his theory of evolution by means of natural selection. What year did this take place? (MAIN)
3. Philippine Vice President Sara Duterte said Saturday she has contracted an assassin to kill the president, his wife and the House of Representatives speaker if she herself is _____, in a brazen public threat that she warned was not a joke. (MAIN)
4. The first woman to command Canada's military called out a U.S. senator on Saturday for questioning what? (MAIN)
5. United Nations climate talks adopted a deal to inject at least $_____ billion annually in humanity's fight against climate change, aimed at helping poor nations cope with the ravages of global warming in tense negotiations in the city where industry first tapped oil. (MAIN)
6. Tens of thousands of Spaniards marched in downtown Barcelona on Saturday to protest the skyrocketing cost of what? (MAIN)
7. In a study published Thursday in the journal Science, Whiten and colleagues go as far as arguing that chimpanzees have a "tiny degree of _____," a capability long thought unique to humans. From mammals to insects, many animals exhibit some evidence of culture, when individuals can socially learn something from a nearby individual and then start doing it. (MAIN)
8. More than _____ customers in the region remained without power Saturday evening, four days after a deadly bomb cyclone battered Western Washington. (MAIN)
9. At a moment when large offshore wind projects are encountering public resistance, a nascent ocean industry is showing promise: _____. It's coming to life in Newport, a rainy coastal town of nearly 10,500 people located a few hours south of Portland. (NW)
10. What movie is this a scene from, and what does it draw attention to? (THE MIX)

