

News Break Scavenger Hunt

Sunday's News Break challenges you to hunt through the Sunday, March 30, 2025, print replica of The Seattle Times to find answers to the following questions.

1.

Who is in this picture? Where was this taken? What is the significance of the article-what are they celebrating? (MAIN)

2. In 2014, new owners purchased Panorama House, an 18-story building on First Hill, and to renovate the decades-old apartments, they kicked out 200 tenants, many of them elderly and retired. Explicitly or not, they were making room for a deluge of younger renters moving to a city unequipped to fit newcomers. Many transplants had an advantage over Panorama's old tenants-what was it? (MAIN)
3. Protesters gathered at Tesla dealerships throughout Washington and dozens of other locations across the U.S. on Saturday in a coordinated protest against CEO Elon Musk's involvement in what? (MAIN)

4.

Unlike a total solar eclipse, when the entire sun is covered, a partial solar eclipse creates a _____ sun. (MAIN)

5. _____ are growing in popularity across the country, and in recent years, Colorado has emerged as a leader. Since 2015, it has built 28 new large game crossing structures, according to the state Transportation Department. The state is rich in wildlife, and many of its species travel from higher elevations in the summer to lower ones in the winter, oftentimes crossing highways at great peril. (MAIN)
6. A government-sponsored _____ ban in schools across Mexico took effect Saturday, officials said, as the country tries to tackle one of the world's worst obesity and diabetes epidemics. The health guidelines,

- published in fall, take a direct shot at salty and sweet processed products that have become a staple for generations of Mexican schoolchildren, including sugary fruit drinks, packaged chips, artificial pork rinds and soy-encased, chili-flavored peanuts.
7. For decades, Washington women's _____ has been one of the most successful programs in the sport, winning 12 national titles in the past 50 years. (SPORTS)
  8. In 2024, the median sale price of a new home in King County, including single-family and condos, was $_____. (BUSINESS)
  9. What's a "food voice"? (THE MIX)
  10. It's always been challenging to figure out what's really in household cleaning products — you practically need a chemistry degree to decipher the labels. Now there's another growing concern. While cleaning products aren't the biggest contributor to _____ in the environment, many do contain them, or shed them as part of their breakdown process. (AT HOME IN THE NW)