

News Break Scavenger Hunt

Sunday's News Break challenges you to hunt through the Sunday, October 25, 2026, print replica of The Seattle Times to find answers to the following questions.

1. U.S. candy prices have been climbing faster than the rate of inflation for several years. As of September, candy and gum prices were up ____% over a five-year period. (MAIN)
2. A fire swept through the mountaintop retreat built for Adolf Hitler and known as the _____ as emergency services struggled to tackle the blaze in snow and wind, and a man was arrested on suspicion of arson, authorities said Saturday. (MAIN)
3. The chief executive of Six Flags says the company will install _____ on the Georgia roller coaster from which a rider fell to his death earlier this month. The company's rides with similar restraints will also get the safety upgrade. (MAIN)
4. Japan's unpopular revisions to the Imperial House Law that reinforce the _____ - _____ rules took effect Saturday. The new rules are expected to bring historic changes to Japan's 1,500-year-old monarchy. (MAIN)
5. Israelis held a final large rally against Prime Minister _____ ahead of what has been described as the most consequential election in the country's history. (MAIN)
6. Thanks to the tour's strict _____ - _____ policy, locking devices in soft-case Yondr pouches, fans were forced to live in that moment with her, suppressing the urge to hit record. Some inevitably will grumble over the phone-free policies. But Bridgers' hushed introspections are served best without distractions, and that can be hard to come by in sold-out arenas, where phone cameras are always rolling for the big-tent pop stars or hard-thumping rock bands that often pass through Climate Pledge Arena. (MAIN)
7. Some among the Seattle area's Generation Z and Alpha age groups are diving headfirst into _____. In Washington, 28,500 business owners without paid workers are under 25 years old, per the latest available U.S. Census Bureau data, covering 2023. (BUSINESS)
8. Roughly _____ million American workers, or about 7% of the current workforce, may need to change jobs by 2035 because of artificial intelligence-related displacement, according to the report. That means the number of U.S. workers who change occupations each year — historically around 215,000 — may triple over the next decade. (JOBS)
9. By eating a variety of _____, staying _____ and _____, we can feel better in the short term while also playing the long game. (THE MIX)
10. "What I love about propagation is you are creating _____," he says. "And what's better than free plants?" (AT HOME IN THE NW)
